Criminal Justice-Law Enforcement Tips

Pre-program Status Students

A pre-program status student may take courses before actual entry into the program core courses if any of the following apply:

- program core courses are filled to capacity
- you are completing a remediation plan for program entrance requirements
- you may wish to begin General Study courses before program core courses.

Pre-program Status Considerations

- You must estimate how long you will need to wait before beginning your program core courses. As this cannot be predicted exactly, you must make your best guess as you plan which courses to finish before you begin program core courses.
- You may wish to spread your courses out in such a way that you will not “run short” of credits during your time at CVTC. In some cases, health insurance eligibility may depend upon full-time student status.
- Federal financial aid requirements specify students must complete their programs by the time 150% of the published credits have been attempted.

Sequence of Writing Courses

You must successfully complete the following sequence of courses: 801-171 Business English and 801-195 Written Communications before 504-905 Report Writing.

Distance Learning

Some general education courses are available via distance learning. Check our website www.cvtc.edu.

Criminal Background/Driving History

Prospective students must be aware that their criminal background/driving history will directly impact their employability in the law enforcement field. While most convictions or a poor driving record do not bar a person from a law enforcement certification, it may make it very difficult to obtain employment in the field. Types of convictions that would prohibit employment in the law enforcement field include any domestic violence criminal conviction and felony conviction. Juveniles who have been adjudicated delinquent of an act which would bar them from possessing a firearm as an adult cannot be certified as a law enforcement officer.

Selectives for Criminal Justice Students not in the Law Enforcement Certification Track

Contemporary Issues in Criminal Justice 504-162 (3 credits, 3 hours/week, spring only)

Examination of all levels of criminal justice system, public and private; contemporary issues that affect them; futuristic challenges and concerns.

Some courses may not be eligible for financial aid. Courses must be part of a program to be eligible. A list of courses not eligible is located on www.cvtc.edu.

Criminal Justice Law Enforcement Certification Track Tips

(Eau Claire)

What is Law Enforcement Certification?

Law enforcement certification provides training to meet minimum standards as established by the State of Wisconsin to enter the law enforcement profession. Certification training is essentially the same training that Criminal Justice students receive while they are still in the program. Some students enter Certification training after they graduate from the associate degree program.

What is the Law Enforcement Certification Track?

Students are invited to attend an informational meeting in February/March prior to entering the third semester where they receive a packet explaining admission to the Law Enforcement Certification Track. This track allows students to complete their Wisconsin Law Enforcement Certificate Training during their final two semesters in the associate degree program by:

Qualifications for the Law Enforcement Certification Track:

Successfully completed the first year of the Criminal Justice program.

Attended at least 90% of class time in Criminal Justice classes in the first year of the program.

Be selected through an interview process by the Law Enforcement Certification Committee for participation in the Law Enforcement Certification Track.

The student must have successfully passed a drug screen within 60 days prior to the second year of the program.

River Falls Students

River Falls students will commute to Eau Claire for 8 hours of skills training. These classes will meet 4 hours per day two different days per week. The classes will last two semesters.
